REGIONS & LAWS:

The Laws

New World vs Old World Generally Equals Cool vs Warm

The Laws:

Every wine producing region has its corresponding laws or guidelines that help mold the type and style of wine that's produced in that area.

AVA – American Viticultural Areas and the Laws as Defined by the TTB:

75 / 85 / 95 (Oregon is unique with 90)

WineInstitute.org states, “ When a U.S. winery wants to tell you the geographic pedigree of its wine, it uses a tag on its label called an Appellation of Origin. Appellations are defined either by political boundaries, such as the name of a county, state or country, or by federally-recognized regions called American Viticultural Areas (AVAs). In order for a wine to be designated with an Appellation of Origin defined by a political boundary, such as a county name for example, federal law requires that 75 percent or more of grapes used to make the wine be from that appellation, and that the wine be fully finished within the state in which the county is located. A wine bearing "California" as an Appellation of Origin must, under state law, be made with 100% grapes that were grown and finished in the Golden State. If a wine is designated with the name of an American Viticultural Area (AVA), federal regulations require that 85 percent or more of the wine is derived from grapes grown within the boundaries of that TTB-established AVA and that the wine is fully finished within the state or one of the states in which the AVA is located. Certain states have stricter standards for use of the name of an Appellation/AVA on wine labels.”

So: 75% Varietal Composition if designated by a political boundary. 85% if designated by a 'Wine Boundary' and 95% Vintage Composition. If a wine is produced in Oregon, then there must be a 90% Varietal Composition – unless it's Cabernet Sauvignon, then we follow the 75% rule.

DOC / DO / AOC . . . and now DOP / AOP - Denominazione di Origine Controllata / Denominación de Origen / Appellation d'origine Contrôlée

Italy / Spain / France. There are laws governing the other wine growing regions, as well, i.e. Germany, Hungary, etc.. These laws were generally instituted in order to keep 'copy cat' wines out of the market and help the best of the best wine growing regions have an identity. These laws may govern, yield, varieties, alcohol, trellising, ageing . . . as so on. Most easily explained as region first, then the governing laws within that region. The downfall, according to some, was that it had the result of limiting creativity, i.e. Super Tuscan wines.

It can be generally fair to assume Old World as being a Cooler Climate and New World as being from a Warmer Climate.

DEDUCTIVE WINE TASTING

It's not as much what you're tasting as it's what YOU'RE NOT tasting

Let's Taste:

Certified Deductive Tasting Exam - White Wine

Candidate Name: _____

Instructions: Fill in correct boxes completely. Checks, X's, hashes or other marks may not be accurately graded. This exam grid combines NOSE (Aroma) and PALATE (Flavor) descriptors. Candidates should mark dominant KEY descriptors found in both the nose and palate that describe the wine. Every line has one correct answer, DO NOT leave any blank lines. Each wine has a minimum of 4 and maximum of 12 "Dominant" characteristics.

1	Color:	What is the Color?	Straw	Yellow	Gold
2	Fruit Family(s):	Apple / Pear	Dominant	Slight / None	If Dominant, describe:
3		Citrus	Dominant	Slight / None	If Dominant, describe:
4		Pitted / Stone	Dominant	Slight / None	If Dominant, describe:
5		Tropical	Dominant	Slight / None	If Dominant, describe:
6		Melon	Dominant	Slight / None	If Dominant, describe:
7	Fruit Quality(s):	Tart	Dominant	Slight / None	Every Line Has One Correct Answer
8		Ripe	Dominant	Slight / None
9		Overripe / Jammy/ Cooked	Dominant	Slight / None
10		Baked/ Dried / Oxidized	Dominant	Slight / None
11	NON-FRUIT Quality(s):	Aromatic Flowers	Dominant	Slight / None	If Dominant, describe:
12		Distinctive Herbal or Vegetal Notes	Dominant	Slight / None	If Dominant, describe:
13		Ginger, Honey, Wax, Botrytis	Dominant	Slight / None	DO NOT LEAVE ANY LINES BLANK
14		Vanilla, Brown Baking Spice, Smoke, Toast	Dominant	Slight / None
15		Yeast, Dough, Baked Bread	Dominant	Slight / None
16		Butter, Cream	Dominant	Slight / None
17	Organic Earth:	Wet Leaves, Brett, Mushrooms	Dominant	Slight / None
18		Inorganic Earth: Stone, Rock, Mineral, Sulfur	Dominant	Slight / None
19		Oak: Was this wine aged in noticeable new oak?	Dominant	Slight / None	If Dominant, describe:
20	Structure	Bitter, Phenolic Finish	Dominant	Slight / None	DO NOT LEAVE ANY LINES BLANK
21		Sweetness	Dry	Off Dry			Sweet
22		Acid	Low to Moderate Minus	Moderate to Moderate Plus			High
23		Alcohol	Low to Moderate Minus	Moderate to Moderate Plus			High
Conclusion
24	The type of climate where the wine was produced can best be described as:		Cool / Moderate	Warm / Hot	Explain Why:
